

Changing Waters By Brian L.

I've been thinking about my actions
The things I didn't do and could've done
The same goes for all of us
We all desire to have the most, it's in our nature to do so But not everything is set in stone.

Do you feel the darkness that surrounds you and me? Feel the darkness that surrounds
Hawaii?

And surrounds the globe?
Do you hear it? Both darkness and light calling Hear it challenging us to change
It's time to push that darkness and stand together.

We can learn from our mistakes
We can learn to challenge ourselves
We can follow the stars as it shines on us
We can be a leader and lead those to a new, lush land Learn from mistakes and reconsider the creed of our breed.
